

In addition with the other problems associated with PLC, I have noted severe interference to the AM radio in my vehicle as I drive thru the small towns surrounding Andover. Some areas it overwhelms the signal from a 50,000 watt station (WBZ AM). The radiation, I believe is from the overhead powerlines along the streets I have driven. I can drive thru the same areas and the interference repeats in the same areas, so there is something constantly there and not just an occasional burst of noise.
